

facing the world

fighting for children with facial deformities

Join Us in Making 2025 Better for Children with Facial Deformities.

Christmas is just around the corner and we all know how hectic our lives can get in the run-up to the holiday season.

But we are asking you to please spend just a few minutes watching this video about our latest mission to Vietnam.

Each year, thanks to your ongoing support, we can change the lives of children with facial deformities forever.

Not only performing surgeries but thanks to your efforts, Facing the World has collaborated with some of the finest hospitals in Hanoi to share knowledge, experience and medical techniques from Western doctors with our colleagues in Vietnam.

This sustainable effort not only provides immediate care and treatment but also offers long-term solutions in training Vietnamese medics with the skills they need to make a real difference.

But this is not enough.

We want 2025 to be even better, with more children saved, more lives improved and medical treatment in Vietnam to be elevated to higher levels.

And for this to happen, your continued support is critical.

Many thanks for all you have done for Facing the World, and we look forward to continuing our journey to make lives better.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Please find attached a video of our latest mission and an AI-generated podcast summarizing our work in Vietnam for your listening convenience.

Facing The World 2024 - November Conference & Mission
Please click the image above to watch the Video.